Our space spread across three rooms: two at the front, facing Torstraße, and one at the back, connected by a hallway with kitchen and toilet access. Tall Altbau ceilings give the front-of-house a ton of vertical volume, while the linear layout allows things to unfold gradually. The room setup can be rearranged depending on the needs: one part of the space can become a bar, another a DJ station, a fitting room, a screening area, or whatever the occasion calls for.

Mitte Büro's capacity varies by format. A full-house standing reception fits up to 70 people, while a more relaxed standing setup works best at around 40. For seated dinners or workshops, we recommend up to 25 guests, and for photo or video productions, up to 15 people at a time. Exhibitions, pop-ups, and other walk-in formats can accommodate a higher total attendance as the crowds come and go.
